

I am absolutely oppsed to allowing the banking industry to roll back the "No-Call" laws that consumers have been able to get enacted. I do not want telemarketing calls from banks and others and really enjoy the peace of no dinner hour phone solicitations. If banks want to solicit their customers, then let them encourage customers to come into banks rather than trying to keep them away.